*Do you recall the joy of being read to as a child? Those bedtime stories were what fueled our dreams. Bruce Meyer, who remains a child at heart, takes us on a journey of love, remembrance and celebration of life, time, art and beauty. He will read from his recent books, The Arrow of Time, The Seasons, A Chronicle of Magpies, and forthcoming books such as Hammers for the Hardened Heart and Bellwether.*

BRUCE MEYER is author of 47 books of poetry, short fiction, non-fiction and literary journalism. He was the inaugural Poet Laureate of the City of Barrie and recipient of the Barrie Arts Award for Excellence in the Arts in 2015. Professor of Communications and Creative Writing at Georgian College, he is an Associate of Victoria College in the University of Toronto.

Bruce Meyer's The Seasons is a living, loving testament to tenderness.

One long whisper into a lover's ear....

I loved this book because it reminded me how powerful love is, how precious....

Meyer's gentle voice hits exactly the right note, again and again.

Honest and clear....
